ONTARIO COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENT EXPIRATIONS IN 1990

OFFICE OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING INFORMATION
INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS DIVISION
ONTARIO MINISTRY OF LABOUR

JANUARY 1990

HON. GERRY PHILLIPS
MINISTER

GEORGE THOMSON
DEPUTY MINISTER

FOREWORD

This is the twenty-third annual report of the Ontario Ministry of Labour on collective bargaining agreement expirations. It describes the extent of collective bargaining activity in Ontario for renewal of agreements scheduled to expire in 1990.

The data in this report are derived form information available in the Ministry's Collective Agreements Library as of December 31, 1989 and identify all 1990 bargaining situations known to the Ministry at that date. They do not include situations that will result from recent and future certifications by the Ontario Labour Relations Board, and new agreements that were not yet signed when the report was completed.

The report consists of five tables. Part A of Table 1 shows the total number of all agreements expiring by industry and month of expiration; and Part B shows the number of employees who will be affected. Table 2 gives a distribution of the total expirations by industry and size of bargaining unit. Table 3 shows the total number of all agreements expiring and employees involved by union and month of expiration. Table 4 lists only those agreements covering 200 or more employees by month of expiration; and Table 5 lists them by industry.

Appendix I lists the major agreements (those covering 1,000 or more employees) expiring in 1990. Appendix II explains the SIC (Standard Industrial Classification) used in Tables 4 and 5, and Appendix III defines the group codes.

The report was prepared in the Office of Collective Bargaining Information, Industrial Relations Division, Ontario Ministry of Labour.

ONTARIO COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENT EXPIRATIONS, 1990

Introduction

Collective bargaining activity in 1990 will be heavier than in the past year. About 3,295 agreements, covering 637,460 employees, are scheduled to expire during the year. (See Tables 1A and 1B.)

The 1990 expiries represent 34% of the 9,685 agreements on file in the Ministry of Labour's Collective Agreements Library as of December 31, 1989 and affect 45% of the 1,424,718 total Ontario employees covered by agreements.

In terms of the number of employees affected, the upcoming negotiations will be concentrated in construction, transportation equipment, education and related services, local government, retail trade, communications, steel, pulp and paper and utilities. The major situations are listed in Appendix I.

Economic Setting

After six consecutive years of strong growth in the area of 5% per annum, Ontario's economy showed signs of slowing down in 1989. The rate of growth in 1989 was 2.8% and expectations for 1990 are for the rate to be about 2.0%.

The unemployment rate for the province averaged 5.0% in 1989, the same as it had been in 1988 and the lowest level since 1974.

The inflation rate in Ontario rose to 5.8% in 1989, having been at 4.7% the previous year. The national rate of inflation also rose: it was 4.1% in 1988, but was 5.0% in 1989. At the same time interest rates in 1989 remained higher than they had been in quite a few years.

Under collective agreements covering 200 or more Ontario employees, negotiated wage increases in settlements ratified in the first quarter of 1989 averaged 5.3% per year, rose to 5.4% for settlements ratified in the second quarter, and averaged 5.1% for the third quarter.

In 1989, there were fewer one-year agreements than in recent years, and that trend may continue into 1990. Other factors relevant to the labour relations environment in 1990 are the implementation of pay equity, adjustment to the introduction of free trade, and the implementation of the federal goods and services tax in January 1991.

Monthly Activity

March, April and December have the largest number of contract expirations in 1990 and account for 46% of the total expirations. In terms of employees, April is the heaviest month, with 154,314 employees covered by 405 agreements including about 107,100 construction workers under 70 agreements. Other active months are June, August and September, in which a combined total of about 204,950 employees will be affected by bargaining. These six months together account for 70% of the total expirations and 78% of the total number of employees who will be involved in contract bargaining in 1990.

Industry Activity

Non-maufacturing sector bargaining will account for 60% of all agreements expiring in 1990 and 66% of the employees covered. The major negotiations will take place in construction, retail trade, education, health and welfare services and municipal administration. These five industries alone comprise 58% of the 1,982 non-manufacturing expirations and 70% of the 422,745 employees involved.

In the manufacturing sector, key industries in which bargaining will occur include the transportation equipment, steel, pulp and paper and food and beverage industries. These four major groups account for 47% of manufacturing expirations and about 70% of the employees covered by agreements in the manufacturing sector opening up for renewal next year.
